

Nordimpianti System Srl, 66100 Chieti (CH), Italy

Half a century of success: 50 years of Nordimpianti System

The management of Nordimpianti System has been in the hands of the Gagliardi family for five decades now. The company, which specialises in the construction of systems and machines for prestressed concrete elements, can look back on an impressive success story: With more than 300 realised projects in over 50 countries, this development began in the Italian region of Abruzzo and eventually extended across the whole world.

The company, based in Chieti, Italy, celebrated its 50th anniversary in November. The company's strength lies in a successful mix: the visionary leadership of founder Nunzio Gagliardi, who remains active even at the age of 80, the innovative strength of the second generation to position the company as a player on the various global markets and a corporate culture that emphasises teamwork and attention to detail. This combination has made Nordimpianti a world leader in the field of industrialised construction. With a team of over 70 permanent employees and around 250 other specialists in related areas, Nordimpianti achieves an annual turnover of 16 million euros. The export share is remarkable, accounting for over 95% of total turnover. The company specialises in the development and manufacture of machines and systems for the production of precast concrete elements and also offers turnkey solutions.

The success story began in the 1960s, when founder Nunzio Gagliardi emigrated to Switzerland after facing professional challenges. There he gained valuable experience in large metalworking companies. After the birth of his third child, the family returned to Abruzzo in 1974 and Gagliardi founded the company OTM (Officina Teatina Meccanica) after a dramatic turn of events – the sudden closure of his former employer's factory. The foundation stone for Nordimpianti was laid.

An important milestone in the company's development in the mid-1980s was the collaboration with Edoardo Querin and Remo Ghignone, which led to expansion into international markets. With them, Gagliardi opened a representative office in Milan. The first orders from Malta, Libya, Venezuela, Costa Rica and other countries followed and Nordimpianti continued to develop steadily over the following decades.

Towards the end of the millennium, the first two children joined the company: Francesco in the electrical department,

Two good reasons to celebrate: 50 years of Nordimpianti and the 80th birthday of company founder Nunzio Gagliardi.

The founder of Nordimpianti Nunzio Gagliardi with his wife Filomena.

Impressions of the celebration at the Nordimpianti plant in Chieti.

The family of the current CEO of Nordimpianti: Gian Piero Gagliardi with his wife Stefania and their two children.

who sadly passed away early in 2003, and Agata in the administration department.

With the turn of the millennium, the focus also changed: the addition of 'System' to the company name emphasises the ability to offer comprehensive solutions – from planning to customer service.

The next milestone came in 2000, when the third son of the Gagliardi family, the current CEO Gian Piero, joined the company. The path to further growth led to internationalisation with the establishment of a network of representatives in 27 countries. The co-operation with Bert Cooreman in Belgium and Philip Tabone in Malta was decisive in this. Relationships were established in the Middle East, and in 2009 the company also expanded to the countries of the former Soviet Union, then to Africa, in particular Burkina Faso, and finally to the Far East. The first factory for Samsung was built in South Korea in 2011, followed in 2022 by another important step: the opening of Nordimpianti Korea.

The company's consistent investment in marketing and trade fair appearances – 45 events in 2015 alone, for example – as well as in innovation and the further development of its machines has never let up. At the same time, Nordimpianti remains true to its roots and continues to strengthen its local presence in Chieti, where the production facility extends over three warehouses.

For CEO Gian Piero, the celebration of the 50th Anniversary of Nordimpianti System and the 80th Birthday of the President Nunzio Gagliardi was more than just a milestone, it was a heartfelt moment to express gratitude. Surrounded by colleagues, customers, suppliers, partners, and friends, he took the opportunity to thank every employee for their unwavering commitment and passion. Together, they revisited the significant achievements of a journey that has led the company to expand across more than 50 countries.

The well-being of Nordimpianti has been in family hands since the company was founded: Nunzio Gagliardi with his son Gian Piero.

Yet, this celebration was not only about honouring the past, it was also about looking ahead. The horizon is rich with exciting new challenges, offering opportunities for the next generation to step forward and continue shaping the future.

With bold ideas and shared determination, the story of Nordimpianti System is far from over. It is only just beginning its next chapter. ■

FURTHER INFORMATION

nordimpianti

NORDIMPIANTI SYSTEM SRL

Via Erasmo Piaggio, 19/A

66100 Chieti (CH), Italy

T +39 0871 540222

info@nordimpianti.com

www.nordimpianti.com